Innovation and tradition

The Fletco Group is based in a Danish region, with a proud tradition of manufacturing industrial textile products to high-quality craftsmanship standards.

Our story goes back more than 70 years, and today we are a modern, family owned company focusing on product development, technological innovation and efficient, eco-friendly production.

Flexibility, creativity and sustainability are key values woven into all our carpets, and into all our partnerships and relations. We have great experience in working close with architects and developers on visionary solutions for all kinds of projects from hospitality to office.

We are one of Europe's leading suppliers on the contract market offering a three dimensional product range: Broadloom, carpet tiles and rugs.

Your vision
our carpet

At Fletco we believe in creating possibilities. By uniting the practical qualities of the carpets with a multitude of choices in colours, patterns and shapes, we turn the flooring into a serious and amusing playground for architects and developers.

Even though we are proud of our carpets, they are not designed to stand alone. They are meant to live in respect for buildings and their interior. Quiet and harmonic, fresh and eye catching, or maybe even provocative. It's up to you.

Based on your ideas, intentions and visions for the building the carpet can help create and reinforce the desired impression and experience.

We make it possible to walk on visions.

At Fletco we think different - especially when it comes to design.

Our own creative division is at the forefront in developing new colours and designs, and on top of that, we have initiated a new and exciting approach to carpet design by inviting renowned designers to create their unique series of carpet tiles.

We are very proud that both Philippe Starck and Sebastian Wrong have seen it as an exciting and artistic challenge to unleash their creativity into our carpet tiles.

Eye for the future

At Fletco we believe in using technological innovation where it leads to efficiency, improved quality or new possibilities.

We have invested in the most advanced and modern state of the art machinery that ensures precision, quality and flexibility in the production. And we are open-minded regarding further developing to ensure our position as market leader.

We keep an eye on all trends and demands, both in terms of design trends and legislation.

Interior design and acoustics

Noise reduction is becoming an important issue in interior design in both office buildings and in the hospitality sector. It's all about creating rooms and areas not only for the eyes but for the ears as well.

A serious approach to acoustics is of great importance for creating a comfortable environment for work, meetings, entertainment and relaxation.

It is a proven fact, that poor acoustics leads to workplace dissatisfaction and has a direct impact on employee performance and physical wellbeing.

Noise can cause both stress and frustration in office buildings and institutions - and when it comes to hospitality and entertainment, unwanted noise will have a negative effect on the overall experience.

Carpeting is one of the main tools to minimize unwanted noise - and Fletco carpet tiles will help you create rooms and spaces with a pleasant acoustics for working and experience.

Creating carpets in a sustainable process

Fletco focuses on environmental issues in all our manufacturing processes, from cradle to cradle. Sustainability is key to all our product development.

We lead the field and meet or surpass the authorities' official or certifying bodies' carpet manufacturing requirements. Wherever possible, we will engage in research and development into new methods and materials.
